HOW WILL MY SHIPMENT BE RETURNED TO ME

Each piece will be returned in a sealed tamper-evident IIDGR and will be subdivided (as per the results) into the following categories.

Pass	The diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel have been screened by the International Institute of Diamond Grading & Research ("IIDGR") and have been classified as being neither synthetic nor simulants. Should the seal of this parcel no longer be intact the validity of this classification is no longer assured. The stone count given above is indicative only and has not been verified by IIDGR. For the avoidance of doubt, the disclaimer contained within the report accompanying this shipment applies to the services performed by IIDGR on the diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel. The conditions for the provision of set diamond jewellery screening services govern the provision of these services by IIDGR.
Refer	The diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel have been screened by the International Institute of Diamond Grading & Research ("IIDGR") and have been found to have characteristics overlapping with those of some synthetic diamonds. Highly detailed testing is required to determine whether they are synthetic, which falls outside the scope the services for which IIDGR has been engaged in respect of the set diamond jewellery contained within this sealed parcel. Should the seal of this parcel no longer be intact the validity of this classification is no longer assured. For the avoidance of doubt, the disclaimer contained within the report accompanying this shipment applies to the services performed by IIDGR on the diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel. Jewellery Containing Synthetics	The diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel have been screened by the International Institute of Diamond Grading & Research ("IIDGR") and one or more stones have been classified as being synthetic diamond. Should the seal of this parcel no longer be intact the validity of this classification is no longer assured. For the avoidance of doubt, the disclaimer contained within the report accompanying this shipment applies to the services performed by IIDGR on the diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel. The conditions for the provision of set diamond jewellery screening services govern the provision of these services by IIDGR.
Jewellery Containing Referrals and Synthetics	The diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel have been screened by the International Institute of Diamond Grading & Research ("IIDGR") and one or more stones have been found to have characteristics overlapping with those of some synthetic diamonds or have been classified as being synthetic diamond. Should the seal of this parcel no longer be intact the validity of this classification is no longer assured. For the avoidance of doubt, the disclaimer contained within the report accompanying this shipment applies to the services performed by IIDGR on the diamonds contained in the piece of set diamond jewellery within this sealed parcel. The conditions for the provision of set diamond jewellery screening services govern the provision of these services by IIDGR.
Unscreened Jewellery	These goods have been submitted to, but not screened by, the International Institute of Diamond Grading & Research ("IIDGR"). No screening has been performed on these goods.

If a stone is referred, IIDGR will clearly mark this stone with a coloured marker and the piece will be sent back to you in a sealed tamper-evident bag with the refer label attached.

Should the seal of any of the tamper-proof and/or zip-lock bags not be intact when your shipment is returned to you, the validity of the verification is no longer assured. Likewise, if you then open the tamper-evident bag the validity of the verification is similarly no longer assured.

INVOICING

You will be invoiced monthly in INR. You will receive one invoice per shipment. Your invoice, together with a backup sheet detailing each Shipment, will be emailed to the Key Contact and Finance Contact email addresses you provided.
